

A worker was asked in court whether he wanted to take a religious oath or a secular one. He answered, "I am unemployed." "This was not merely absentmindedness," said Mr. K. "With this answer he indicated that he found himself in a situation where such questions, even perhaps the whole legal procedure as such, no longer made sense."

A GOOD ANSWER
MR. NOBODY

HERR KEUNER
EMMELINES